

Thinking now about health care policy, would you support or oppose a policy to allow states to import prescription drugs from other countries?

